In a typical week there are hundreds of services and activities taking place in our United Synagogue communities and security is always of the utmost importance.

Last year alone the United Synagogue spent over £1.25million on security for our communities and cemeteries. One of the major changes that has occurred in recent times is the need to increase and professionalise the security outside our buildings. These changes include having equipment such as protective vests and the need to use security companies to provide security guards in our communities in addition to the many thousands of hours given by our members who volunteer to keep us safe.

CST is our key partner in ensuring your safety and security. We are truly indebted to them and the work that they do. They provide vital training for our community volunteers and professionals and through CST's £11million+ Security Enhancement Project donations have upgraded many of our buildings' security including CCTV, perimeter fencing and alarms. They also help to represent British Jews on issues of combating racism, antisemitism and extremism.

The US and CST are working together to keep our community safe.
